

Survives 1,500 Mile Ambulance Ride

Hummingbird Injured At Grayling Game Club, Recovers In N. J.

A tiny patient, an injured hummingbird, has survived one of the longest ambulance trips on record, 1,500 miles — and is recuperating at the home of its owner, Mrs. Betty Carnes, in Tena.

The feathered bird story began two weeks ago when the hero of this narrative, now named Small Fry, crashed into the picture window of a home in Grayling, Mich.

Small Fry suffered a broken wing, but otherwise he was in luck. The window was part of the property of Fern Holden, a member of the Wilson Ornithological Society.

Man Mausoleum At Elmwood

It has just been announced that arrangements have been completed for the building of a community mausoleum in the Elmwood Cemetery in Grayling.

The mausoleum is a structure built for the burial of people after death. They are constructed in such a manner as to be able to be made away from dirt and water and protected by stone, steel and concrete. This is long been the method of burial in many families of wealth and for national heroes such as Lincoln, Grant, Garfield, Washington, and many others in our country. This mode of entombment has been in use for hundreds of years, since the construction of the Pyramids of Egypt, which are mausoleums for a burial of Kings.

Until recently the cost of this type of entombment has been of such expense that it was far beyond the reach of the average man, but now when operated on a community basis where many families share the expense, it gives the protection of a private mausoleum at a cost of less than burial. Spaces, for two in a mausoleum such as this, are not as costly as high as the cost of an average size tombstone which is placed on a grave lot.

While mausoleums are not prominent in this immediate section of the country, they are being built in ever increasing numbers in other sections of the United States and Canada, and will in time traverse the nation as a whole.

This project is being financed by Harold Schreier of Bay City, Mich., and by Thomas Sisson of Midland, Mich. It will lend beauty to the local cemetery as well as giving protection to those who are placed therein.

A/L Arthur Bentley of Arlington, Va., and Miss Lillian Rowe of Lancaster, Pa., spent last week with the former's parents, the Albert Bentleys.

Historic Mackinac Island

Standing high, proud and green in the Straits of Mackinac (in the very shadow of Michigan's $100 million Straits Bridge) the island is rich in Indian legend and early American lore. Mackinac Island played a vital role in the struggle between England and France for supremacy in the new world. Those who controlled the island controlled the rich fur trade of the great northwest.

High on the bluff overlooking the harbor stands Old Fort Mackinac, built in 1760 and preserved today exactly as it looked then. Massive limestone ramparts, cannon, a guard house, a block house and a "blackhole" dungeon are but some of its more interesting features. A museum in the fort tells the story graphically through relics of those days of the beginnings of the part of the country. And in the village of Mackinac Island, which stretches leisurely along the Straits coast, the old Astor Trading Post and the mission church stand as they were of old.

The original homes of the Astors and the Biddies are landmarks of the island.

The Indians dubbed the island "the great turtle" (Michilimackinac) and thought it to be "the place of the dancing spirits."

Smiggins, Spikes Share Lead In County Softball Race

By John D. Schofield

With Spikes, winning two games and Smiggins one, the Crawford County Softball League fell back into a tie between these two teams for first place. The Plaza continues to threaten the leaders from third place, only a half game out of first. Behind these three pacesetters, AuSable, Chevrolet, and Glen's Market are all tied, four full games out of the pace. Bear Archery is all alone in the cellar, with a single victory on their record for the season.

In the only game for Smiggins last week, Jerry Korhonen turned in a one hit shutout for the sixth win of the season for Smiggins. Korhonen allowed only two men to reach first base. A walk to leadoff batter Bob Annis in the first and a single to Mike McNeil in the second. He then retired the next sixteen batters in order. Larry Pond, Duane Worden, and Fritz Golinick had the two hits each to lead the way to the 12-0 win.

The other front runner Spikes, downed Glen's Market by an 11-6 score on Tuesday night and then came from behind to nip Chevrolet by a 14-13 score and gain a tie for first place. Although Chevrolet has lost five games, they have not yet lost a game by more than three runs. Phil Faustman hit a home run and Orlin Luckstedt a game tying grand slammer against Chevrolet.

The Plaza won its only game of the week as they defeated Chevy by a score of 5-3. The game was played under protest from the fifth inning on. Curly LaMotte, Jerry White, and Clyde Anthony got two hits apiece for the Plaza. Dave Lowe and Ron Larson had two each for Chevrolet.

In the other two games, AuSable-Souvenir split, losing to Glen's 8-4 and downing Bear Archery 5-3.

Grayling Bowhunters In Membership Drive

With their membership year beginning on July 1st, the Grayling Bowhunters are in the midst of the membership drive for the 1959-60 year. Total members last year were 69. It is the hope of the group to go over this figure for this year.

A drive letter has gone out over the signature of club president Bob Smock to all former members and also to prospective members in the area. The letter explains what the Bowhunters have accomplished in 1958-59 and the plans for the coming year.

The Grayling Bowhunters clubhouse was completed last year and is entirely free of debt. A fire there late this spring damaged the south end of the building but luckily was confined to a small area and insurance will cover the loss. The big event of the year was when the Bowhunters played host to the National Field Archers Association's annual tournament. Sixty Grayling youngsters took archery lessons at the clubhouse during the winter with 30 archers engaged in league shooting. Another outstanding event was a barbeque dinner made possible by Fred Bear and Carroll West. The club also sponsored the showing of Ebb Warren's movies in May.

For the coming year, the club has a new field archery course under construction north of US-27. There are 56 target positions laid out and cleared with the first 28 just about done and the second 28 to be finished this month. Plans are also being made to lay out a 16 target silhouette course in conjunction with the other course. The club will be hosts to the Northern Michigan Field Archers Association on September 13th. The tourney will be shot on the new course.

A bid has also been entered for the National Field Archery Tournament in 1960. This year's shoot is at Bend, Oregon and at the conclusion of this year's tourney, the site of the 1960 shoot will be determined. It is also the plan of the club to tile the entire clubhouse floor if funds will permit. The clubhouse then can be used for many other youth activities other than archery.

A fire at the down river dump was discovered Saturday afternoon by the Fire Tower, who notified the Grayling Fire Department. The fire burned itself out. The origin was unknown.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. George Kozscol took a three-day camping trip down the Manistee River this week.

Midland Woman Is County's First Traffic Fatality Of Year

Don't Take Present Industry For Granted

"We don't miss water till the well runs dry," is a saying familiar to everyone and it certainly has a lot of truth in it, whether taken literally or figuratively.

This familiar truth can be applied to the industry that keeps the economy of a community alive as well as to the water that keeps the people of the community alive. We take water for granted. Many of us are inclined to take industry for granted, too. Thereafter, the thought industry as here today, why worry, it will be here tomorrow as well.

With our water supply, we have to worry before the well goes dry and make sure we have enough of it and that it is pure and supply for our daily needs. We have to appreciate its importance before it is too late.

Likewise, with industry, we should appreciate its presence and make sure we don't lose it. When the well runs dry, it is too late. After an industry leaves a community it also is too late to do anything about it.

Let's not wait until the well runs dry, but show industry we appreciate what it means to our towns and cities and the people in them. Let's help industry when it has problems and remove any danger threats to its existence and expansion.

Industry appreciation is not a crash program for brief attention here or there. It is a 12 months operation, to protect a community's well-being.

We don't miss water till the well runs dry, the theme of the advertisement which appears in The Avalanche today. It is another in a series of industrial development advertisements sponsored by the Michigan Press-Artist, which appear in this and more than 300 other Michigan newspapers as a public service.

Two Other Accidents Injure Three Other Persons In Vicinity

Heavy 4th Traffic Mostly Accident Free

A Midland woman became the first traffic fatality in Crawford County last Saturday when she was killed in a head-on crash on US-27 about five miles south of Grayling.

Two other accidents in the county brought injury to three other persons, but, the heavy volume of traffic coming north and returning south over the Fourth of July weekend produced comparatively few wrecks and collisions.

Killed was Mrs. Mae Kirby, 58, assistant cashier at Chemical State Savings Bank of Midland, who was en route for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Anna Lasley, and two brothers at their Mackinac Island home.

State police said the accident occurred on US-27 five miles south of Grayling when Mrs. Kirby was passing a car and struck an auto driven by Richard Lindsey, 29, of Flint, head-on.

Lindsey and his wife, 26, suffered bruises and lacerations and were admitted to Grayling hospital.

An accident occurred last Wednesday evening about 9 o'clock at the intersection of M-93 and County Road 612 in Maple Forest Township. A car being driven north on M-93 by Douglas Gilliland, 25, of Lansing, failed to stop at the stop sign and struck a car driven by Lewis A. Delinc, 32, of Addison, broadside as the Delinc car was travelling on M-93.

Both cars were total losses. The Sheriff's Department said who investigated the collision. Injured was Gilliland who suffered 17 breaks in the ribs with two ribs broken in five places. Both of his collar bones are also fractured. One of his children was also taken to Grayling Mercy Hospital but released after no injury was discovered.

Michigan "Blues" To Attend Battle Of Bull Run's Centennial

MICHIGAN BLUECOATS will be on hand for the centennial observance of the Battle of Bull Run.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams has announced plans to send a contingent to help re-enact the Civil War battle that ended in a disastrous rout of the Northern forces.

Michigan and 22 other states were invited by Virginia Gov. Lindsay Almond to send troops to Virginia in July, 1961, to re-enact the battle known in the South as the First Battle of Manassas Junction.

Although the battle ended with Northern forces in a rout, the fighting men of Michigan distinguished themselves in covering the retreat.

Michigan's First, Second, Third and Fourth Regiments had more than 4,000 troops in the battle area, according to a report by the Michigan Historical Commission.

At least 30 Michigan National Guard troops are expected to represent the state in the re-enactment that will be the start of a four-year Civil War centennial observance.

Floyd Haight, chairman of the Michigan Civil War Centennial Commission, said the uniforms will be provided by Ladies' Auxiliaries of state guard units.

"Mr. Haight and his commission have been promised the full cooperation of state agencies and I am confident that an equal degree of support will be forthcoming from civic-minded groups in all parts of our two peninsulas," Williams said in a letter to the Virginia governor.

A new Michigan law enforcement blockade plan was put in effect June 25 following a study by the Michigan State Police, the Michigan Sheriffs Association and the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police.

"It marks a distinct advance in the methods formerly used to apprehend fleeing criminals and is believed to be the only plan of its kind patterned on a statewide basis," a joint announcement by the enforcement agencies said.

Under the plan, 253 agencies were given a predetermined schedule of blockade points to cover.

More than 50 additional agencies will "free lance" on the roads when needed to assist or relieve at control points in their areas.

"The minutes saved as well as the improved coverage is expected to result in many apprehensions which formerly were frustrated," the joint announcement said.

The blockade plan does not include the Upper Peninsula because the area has relatively few highways over which escape can be attempted.

The agencies decided to draft the plan following escapes by criminals who were able to cross the state border ahead of blockades set up on spur-of-the-moment decisions.

Michigan Trip Pays Off . . .

NEARLY 100 YEARS AGO — back in the days of yells, pounding hooves and Gray Ghosts — Southern Raiders used to give the Yankees fits.

The North didn't take too kindly to these swashbuckling riders whose escapades have now become legend. At that was war and the Raiders of yore had a mission to harass the advancing army.

There's a new brand of "Raider" riding out the South today. If he wears gray, it's a gray flannel suit, his pants are peaceful but he also has a definite mission — acquisition of new industry for his state and region.

He is the bearer of invitations, pointing to regional opportunities; the ambassador of sectional progress, and sectional good will.

And the Tennessee Brigade — Gov. Buford Ellington's "Raiders" — has been mighty successful in its recent sally into Michigan.

ACTUALLY, the term "Raider" was hung on the Tennesseeans by Detroit Mayor Louis Miriani who has eternally lambasted and belittled the efforts of our industry-seekers.

When it was reported that 23 immediate prospects had been turned up by the Ellington "Raiders," Miriani says "Baloney." But it wasn't baloney at all; the Tennesseeans brought home the bacon in the form of a $15 million branch of a major furniture manufacturing firm to be located in Johnson City.

The circumstances that have made the Wolverine state the happy hunting grounds for industry-seekers were home-grown. And you can bet your last bar of soap that Governor Ellington will never have to come begging to newly acquired firms to get Tennessee out of a fiscal fiasco similar to that created by Gov. G. Mennen Williams and his lieutenant Governor without portfolio, UAW chief Walter Reuther.

Despite the Detroit Mayor's protestations, the facts are that industry is seeking growing room not only for the location of branch plants but for primary installations as well. The South—particularly Tennessee — fills the bill.

This region has an able, intelligent and industrious supply of workers; the salubrious business climate is inviting when compared with the older industrial areas, and in this era of industrial growth, there is plenty of room for expansion.

BREAKING INTO THE BIG LEAGUE

As the Mayor of Detroit has probably gathered "Raiders" have always been held in considerable esteem in these parts, especially when they hit hard and fast and accomplish their mission.

Editor's Note — The above editorial appeared in the Nashville, Tennessee Banner on Tuesday afternoon, June 9, 1959.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

July 9, 1936

Selection and approval of a new Post Office building for Grayling, to be constructed out of a $150,000 emergency construction fund for Michigan has been announced by the Treasury Dept. and the Post Office Dept. The cost limit including both building and site for the Grayling project amounts to $70,000, and work on the project will be started immediately.

There is a lot of agitation relative to the matter of selecting a site for the new post office building. Among those talked about is the corner location on Michigan Avenue now occupied by the Automobile and McCullough shoe shop, the Mrs. Olson dwelling and Dr. Insley home and Jensen lot adjoining. This location joins the Rialto theatre and is opposite the Court House. The lot is slightly narrower than the specifications call for but we believe might be acceptable, especially inasmuch as more land than is required may be had on the Peninsular Avenue side. The streets on each side are 100 feet in width and would provide ample street parking. It is located just off the business section and in one of the pleasantest and quietest sections of the downtown district.

Those three, nice, new, shiny tanks on US-27 south of the AuSable River bridge are the new home for McClanahan's new High Octane gas. The Wolverine Gas & Oil Co. will be distributing gasoline over five northern Michigan counties. Octane gas is a product of the McClanahan Oil Co. and is refined at St. Louis, Michigan, where the company has installed the very latest processes and sciences in the development of gasoline for use as power for autos. The Wolverine company is operated by J. E. Schoonover and Harry Reynolds, as co-partners. Miss Virginia Skingley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Skingley, became the bride of Mr. LeRoy Millikin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Millikin of Beaver Creek, on Saturday. The ceremony took place at West Branch and they were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zettie of that city. The bride was chosen by a unanimous vote to reign as Queen over the Grayling Winter Sports for this year, a position which she has fulfilled very graciously. Both young people are exceedingly well liked and have a host of friends, who join the Avalanche in an happy wadded life.

Six-year-old Lucille Wakeley celebrated her birthday anniversary June 20th by entertaining a number of her little friends at her home that afternoon. Games were enjoyed after which lunch was served.

served. Many lovely gifts were given to Lucille. Guests were Jimmy Budd, Beatrice McDaniel, Maxine and Kenneth Clise, Jr., and Betty Lou, Marjorie and Bobby Wakeley.

Miss Kathleen Carr and brother Allen left yesterday for Traverse City to pick cherries.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gannon and children drove to Mackinaw City Saturday, returning by way of Petoskey where they visited friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hendrickson and daughter Joan Mae of Detroit, spent the weekend at their home. Mr. Hendrickson has secured employment in that city.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Bidvia were the latter's father, Gust C. Wenzel, daughter Miss Mary, and Frank Netkowski of Rogers City, and Mrs. Bidvia's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kohn, and children of Detroit. Sunday, the party drove to Traverse City and picnicked at the State Park there.

Where Wolcott and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith of Maple Forest, spent the weekend visiting relatives at Otsego and Bradley. On their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Harold Sheldon, who will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, for some time.

Slim Pickins-Up!

Slim Thomas' wife thought up a pretty slick way to get Slim to clean up their front porch.

Slim had a habit of leaving his tools there before coming into the house. And he'd always tell his Missus he'd get around to tidying up later.

So Mrs. T. nailed a large sign to the porch for all passers-by to see: "THOMAS' JUNK PILE. DUMP YOUR OLD EQUIPMENT HERE!" When Slim saw the sign he cleaned that porch so fast he was through before any junk depositors turned up. Threw the sign out, too.

From where I sit, sometimes it takes the "dramatic" to show folks they're wrong. But usually you can solve things by talking them out. For instance, my neighbor once objected to my preference for an occasional glass of beer. But after discussing it with him, he realized he was just plain intolerant. Now he accepts my choice as I accept his. What do you say we "clean up" all intolerant thinking?

here last Tuesday for an auto trip through southern Michigan cities, including Brown City, the boyhood home of Mr. Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis expect to return about July 20th and will bring with them the former's parents for a short visit in Grayling.

An unfortunate fire occurred at the home of George Belmore in Beaver Creek Friday morning of last week, when lightning struck one side of his barn, at about 7 o'clock, setting the building ablaze almost instantly. Among the contents of the barn were four horses and a cow and it was only by the heroic effort on the part of Mr. Belmore and Herbert Odell, who lives at the same place, that they were saved.

Charles Sipe, who was stopping at Hatchery Creek at Henry Stepan's, caught a twenty-two inch rainbow weighing 3 1/2 pounds. It had in its stomach four trout, one over 8 inches long.

Take a tip from the experts . . . in their own words . . . and from the record facts and figures: More than ever, Chevrolet gives you more than any other of the leading low-priced three! More room to relax in, for instance. A sampling of official dimensions reported to A.M.A.* makes this clear. Chevy front seat hip room, for one thing, is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. And Chevy even offers more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars!

Best Brakes Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy out-stopped both of the "other two" in a NASCAR-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

Best Style It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

Best Engine Every motor magazine has given Chevrolet's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: "... surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."

Best Ride MOTOR TREND magazine calls Chevy "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." You'll be able to tell this yourself instantly, once you take the wheel.

Best Economy No doubt about this: two Chevrolet 6's won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car, 22.38 miles per gallon — with Powerglide.

Best Trade-In Check in any N.A.D.A. Guide Book. Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

lary Baptist Church nors Pastor Johnson

ast Sunday evening Calvary st church greatly honored pastor Rev. Alvin Johnson. young people under the able tion of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Evers, were to have the even-service. Paul Bradstreet be-the young people's part of served with a song and chor-McEvers then led in the pastor finished singing verse of a requested solo, Mr. y Davis, the Sunday School superintendent, interrupted the ing and it was announced —
"This is Your Life". The young people immediately went into accompanied chairs, tape record-ers, an opaque projection etc., to make the evening one which the pastor will never forget.

Mr. Jerry McEvers did a grand job as master of ceremonies. After pastor Johnson was seated in the chair of honor and Mrs. Johnson at his side, Carol Papenfus pinned a corsage on Mrs. Johnson and Katie Forbes pinned a bou-quet on Pastor Johnson.

"This is Your Life" then began to unfold in word and by use of pictures shown on a screen.

Pastor and Mrs. Johnson's five children, Paul, James, David, John and Ruth, prefaced their remarks by asking you to remember — and then called to mind some event out of their own experience.

The entire program not only completely surprised pastor Johnson but also thrilled him as friends from former churches which he has served and attended in Bangor Michigan and Kalamazoo, came to appear on the program.

Those who paid tribute to Pastor Johnson by kind words and by their attendance were: Mrs.
Ruth Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rutledge and their twin daughters Jacki and Jeri, Mr. and Mrs.
Dean Spillers and children, Carol Howard, Lynn, and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis and children Larry, Jeffrey and Kimberly and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Goodrich and children Philip, Lorrie and Lois.

Kind words were expressed by members of the deacon board: Bob Niederer, Oscar Borchers, Ted McEvers and George Bradstreet.

Rev. Aurel Mayson, Phoenix, Arizona, who is Pastor Johnson's brother-in-law, paid tribute via a tape recording. This was also a welcomed surprise.

Miss Vera
Green, a children's missionary in Taswell, Tenn., who attended the Bangor Bible Church when Pastor Johnson was the pastor, wrote a lovely letter which was read by Miss Hazel Canfield. Rev. Paul Kowgo, pastor of 1st Baptist Church of Holland, Mich., who has been a close friend of Pastor Johnson for about 20 years, also sent an appropriate letter which was greatly appreciated. This was read by Miss Helen Papenfus.

Pastor Johnson had the privilege of singing and playing with the quartette with whom he sang for 2 years. The quartette was composed of Dean Spillers 1st Tenor, Howard Davis 2nd Tenor, Pastor
Johnson Baritone and Al Ruit-veldt Bass.

Other special music was provided by a ladies' trio, Misses Connie and Gwen Davis and Arlene Smith, and a men's trio, Paul and Jim Johnson and Paul Bradstreet.

These selections were very much appreciated.

Rev. Clare Olin brought a timely word of exhortation, calling to mind that while tribute was paid to Pastor Johnson, praise belonged to the Lord Jesus Christ. Also,
God knows each detail of our life.

Pastor Johnson gave a few words of appreciation and felt unworthy of the honor of such a wonderful service. Paul Johnson recorded the service on tape and this tape together with a "This Is Your Life Book" was presented to Pastor Johnson by Mr. Jerry McEvers.

Mrs. Edward Underwood, the Ladies Missionary Society president, closed the service in prayer.
The ladies of the church, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Biel-ski, served refreshments in the basement of the church.

Those visiting from out of town were cordially entertained in homes of members of the Calvary Baptist Church. Monday morning, before the visitors left for their homes, they met at the parsonage for a time of fellowship and picture taking. Truly the "This Is Your Life" service was one long to be remembered by all.

By M. D.

This was the week for honey-moons — we had three couples here at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. James Toepf, after a sixteen year courtship, were Synons spent a few days at Camp Arrowhead, fishing the River and Bear Lake.

Another big lake trout was caught in Bear Lake by Dan O'Rourke four days after his wife Margaret caught hers. It was the same length, 30½ inches, but weighed 8 ounces more (8 lbs. 6 ounces.)

City Home Education Affects Teen-Age Drivers

Many teen-age problem drivers have been identified by a survey of the city's schools, according to a survey conducted by the city's home education committee. The survey, which was conducted by the city's home education committee, found that many of the city's teen-age drivers are not properly educated in home education. The survey also found that many of the city's teen-age drivers are not properly educated in home education.

problems; 41 had both parents working and/or little supervision, and 14 came from over-authorized homes. Half were show-offs. Also, 52 were show-offs; 43 had received at least one traffic violation ticket; 56 admitted exceeding safe speeds regularly; 15 had their operator's license suspended. Thirteen had fathers who also were unsafe drivers and had safety attitudes toward law enforcement and traffic safety. In addition, 22 had received too many material things and not enough personal attention at home. Sixty-six per cent of the problem drivers were discipline problems in school; 80 per cent were scholastically below the level of their ability; 75 per cent had poor relationships with their teachers; half were considered aggressive or belligerent. Furthermore, Dr. Mann reported, not one of the 100 average drivers selected by the teachers could be classified into any of these problem groups.

Recommendations
He recommended consultations between school counselors and the problem drivers and their families as a basic remedy for the teen-agers' distorted attitudes toward life and driving. Once such attitudes are changed, he said, the other two basic lessons of driver education—knowledge of driving technique and traffic laws and development of physical skills in handling automobiles—can be taught and learned. Success at this task, he said, would rid such problem drivers of avid desire for recognition, feelings of escape through speed and active hostility toward control—and would decrease the state's highway toll. Since this small group of problem drivers produces more than its share of accidents and gives all teen-agers a bad reputation on the road.
